

New York 2 december (zie Leidraad p. 44, 45, 46, 47)

Prof.dr. D.D. Caron, International Law.

'Images of a Changing Arctic and The Futures They Suggest'

Our strongest image of winter is in the frozen north. Yet, it is changing. This lecture brings together the history and science, and the law and politics of an emerging Arctic representing this region of our globe and our consciousness in three images. Each image suggests for us a future of the Arctic. (De lezing is in het Engels).